

NOTABLE

LGBTQIA+ LEADERS

June is Pride Month, and Crain's is celebrating by spotlighting trailblazers in sectors ranging from finance and health to sustainability and law. The individuals on the Notable LGBTQIA+ Leaders list were selected not only because they excel in their respective fields but also for their commitment to creating inclusive and equitable workplaces.

Gary A. Bornstein

Partner

Cravath, Swaine & Moore

Scope of work: Gary Bornstein is partner at the law company Cravath, Swaine & Moore, co-heading the litigation department. As the first gay department head in firm history, he co-manages nearly 200 attorneys and is regularly called upon to lead various commercial disputes.

Biggest professional win: Bornstein led a victory for a client, Epic Games, in an antitrust litigation against Google. Obtaining a unanimous jury verdict in Epic Games' favor in December 2023, he was lead trial counsel, presented the opening and closing statements, and handled numerous key direct and cross-examinations.

Other contributions: Bornstein, who has served as a partner liaison to Cravath's LGBTQ+ affinity group since its inception, is also a member of the International Bar Association.
